Course: National Emergency Management Academy E-0101 Foundations of Emergency Management Course Offerings for Fiscal Year (FY) 2014

Course Dates:

December 2-12, 2013

June 9-20, 2014

Course Length:

Each Foundations course is 10 days in length with the weekend off after the fifth day of instruction. Class resumes on Monday through Friday for the final 5 days of instruction the second week. Travel days are Sunday of the first week, and Saturday of the second week.

Course Description:

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) recognizes the need to tie training programs to an established set of emergency management competencies and to a career development program through a progressive training and education system that includes the National Emergency Management Academy.

Training objectives are based on the newly established Emergency Management (EM) competencies that the National Emergency Management Association (NEMA), the International Association of Emergency Managers (IAEM), and local, State, territorial, and tribal emergency management professionals have established in coordination with the Emergency Management Institute (EMI).

The following topics in emergency management are covered in this course: legal issues, intergovernmental and interagency context, influencing, organizing, serving the whole community issues, managing stress, collaboration, preparedness, team building, protection and prevention, mitigation, response, ethical decision-making, recovery, technology, administration, and the future.

Prerequisite:

The following courses are mandatory prerequisites to this course:

- IS 100 (any version) – Introduction to the Incident Command System (ICS)
- IS 700 (any version) – National Incident Management System (NIMS), An Introduction
- IS 800.b – National Response Framework, An Introduction
- IS 230.c – Fundamentals of Emergency Management

This E0101 course is a prerequisite to take before taking E0102, E0103, E0104 and E0105.

Continuing Education Units (CEU's):

The Emergency Management Institute (EMI) awards 8.0 CEUs for completion of this course.

Target Audience:

This course is intended for newly appointed emergency managers from State, local, territorial, tribal, Federal emergency management agencies, and prospective professionals transferring from another discipline to emergency management. Veteran emergency managers willing to mentor are also welcome to apply.
